Whoever you are, wherever you’re from, you’ll find a place to belong at UC.

A Friendly, Relaxing and Supportive Community
At UC, you are free to be yourself, and in doing so you’ll be valued for the person you are, as well as enriched by those around you. Student well-being is a top priority. Through pastoral care and one-on-one support, UC does everything possible to meet students’ personal, academic and social needs.

Above all, the great thing about living at UC is that different year levels, undergraduates and graduates mix freely, with resident tutors living amongst students. Living at College is a time to meet new people from diverse backgrounds and disciplines, with whom you will learn and grow, forging life-long friendships.
SETTLING IN
Students say they feel at home as soon as they walk through the doors at UC. Students and staff all know each other by name, and there is a genuine care and support for one another.

ORIENTATION WEEK
The family feeling begins early as O-Week starts with “Welcome Sunday”, where current students help you move into your room and new home. This kicks off a full week of exciting activities organised by the Student Club to help you find your way around campus, meet amazing new friends and have fun exploring Melbourne together.

FROM THE MOMENT YOU ARRIVE...
My decision to come to UC was based on the feeling of ‘home’ that I experienced on my first visit – that stayed with me throughout my entire college experience.
The amount of academic support from the resident tutors and staff at UC is fantastic – it’s really great to learn from their experience.
UC supports you every step of the way

UC’s personalised approach to learning will help you navigate the transition to university. Throughout your studies, our customised academic program will set you up for success. UC students have access to a wide range of tutorials to support their studies. Tutorials are made up of small groups and led by young, approachable resident tutors who know you and you know them. Our tutors live in College so are readily available to answer any questions relating to your course, as well as help you prepare for assessments and exams. You will also connect with fellow students and learn collaboratively. The Dean of Studies is available for advice and guidance whenever you need. It’s a huge advantage of living at UC, where students have long achieved exceptional results.

The library and tutorial rooms are also great places to study. The library is open 24/7 to students and includes computers, scanners, printing facilities and free WiFi. Students will find the UC library a functional space to study with a friendly librarian to help you find resources and secure textbooks.

In addition to the weekly tutorials, consultations are offered to all students to provide specialised one-on-one assistance and tuition. There are also regular academic events including seminars, high table dinners, careers workshops, musical soirees and a lively program of talks (Fireside Chats and After Dinner Conversations) where world-leading academics and thinkers share their research and bring new ideas for group discussion and debate.
Many new students remark how much they have evolved in their first year at UC. A wealth of opportunities exist across a wide range of activities, as life in College allows students to explore all areas of their potential.

Whether you have a knack for music, sports, drama or debating, or simply want to try something new, UC offers many opportunities for you to refine your talents and to step out of your comfort zone.

Double beds and ensuites are a massive plus!

OUTDOOR GARDENS AND COURTYARDS
UC’s beautiful gardens and courtyards are enjoyed by our students all year round – unwinding after a long day at uni or hitting the books under the warm sun. The Kitchen Garden yields fruits and vegetables that are harvested by the student Sustainability Committee for the kitchen in summer and winter.
STAYING HEALTHY AND BALANCED
UC has a well-equipped gym, together with a multipurpose outdoor sports court. The College sits across the road from the ovals and running track and Princes Park. Students may attend weekly yoga classes with additional classes held during exam periods.

MEALS AND FORMAL DINNERS
All meals are provided (21 per week) and freshly prepared by the College’s own catering staff. Menus are varied with regular new additions and cater for special dietary requirements.
Twice a week UC hosts formal dinners, known as High Table, when students wear their academic gowns and the College community comes together for a delicious three-course meal. The Head of College, Deans and Student Club leaders keep residents up to date with what’s happening at UC.
Special occasions to mark the start and end of the academic year — Commencement Dinner and Valedictory Dinner are favourites with students.
